

AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT WORKGROUP MEETING SUMMARY
FEBRUARY 2001

Several ARB staff attended the Agricultural Equipment Workgroup, along with representatives from EPA, John Deere and MECA. After a brief discussion, it was decided that there is not a significant difference in the technical considerations of mobile agricultural vehicles and off-road vehicles. Therefore, due to the small number of participants and the limited number of technical experts in attendance, it was decided that the Agricultural Equipment sub-committee should either be included in the Technology Development Workgroup, or that a separate Off-Road Mobile group should be established. This decision has been referred to ARB Division management.

Information regarding this workgroup will be posted as soon as we have more details. Please refer back to this web site for additional changes.
