

Haagen-Smit Clean Air Awards 2019 Nomination Information

Background

Since 2001, the California Air Resources Board has annually bestowed the distinguished Haagen-Smit Clean Air Awards. The program awards individuals who have made significant career accomplishments in at least one of these categories: research; environmental policy; science and technology; climate change science and mitigation; and public education and community service. To read more about past recipients of the Haagen-Smit Clean Air Awards, visit the website at www.arb.ca.gov/hsawards.

Selection and Notification

The Haagen-Smit Clean Air Award Selection Committee reviews nominations and selects the 2019 award recipients. Winners are notified in November 2019. The presentation of the awards is held in April 2020 during the Board's monthly meeting in Sacramento, California. Along with the awards presentation, winners are invited to share their work with CARB staff, Board members, and interested members of the public at the annual "Clean Air Leadership Talks" forum. This forum takes place the afternoon before the awards presentation.
