Is this a first-time application for an extension based on delays due to installation of zero-emission fueling infrastructure? <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No, this is an application for an additional compliance extension

REASON FOR DELAY (check all that apply):

- Delay in the manufacture and shipment of zero-emission fueling infrastructure equipment:
If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section and provide documentation that the owner ordered the zero-emission fueling infrastructure no later than 3 months before the compliance date.
- Delay in obtaining construction permit(s):
If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section. If available, you may provide a copy of the permit application showing when it was originally submitted to the local agency having jurisdiction. This is not a valid reason for delay if permitting has been denied.
- Delay in obtaining power from a utility:
If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section and provide a statement from the utility that specifies the type of upgrade (distribution line extension, new distribution circuit, substation upgrade, new substation, or new subtransmission line).
- Delay due to private financing:
If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section. If available, you may provide documentation from the financial institution that explains the reason for the delayed processing. This is not a valid reason for delay if financing has been denied.

Delay in the installation of zero-emission fueling infrastructure:

If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section, and provide documentation that the owner ordered the zero-emission fueling infrastructure no later than 3 months before the compliance date.

A natural disaster:

If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section. If available, you may provide photographs detailing the damage to the property, an insurance claim indicating a loss due to a natural disaster, or a statement from the city/county/state official declaring a state of emergency in the area in which the facility is located.

The discovery of archeological, historical, or tribal cultural resources under the California Environmental Quality Act:

If this reason is checked, complete the extension explanation section. If available, you may provide documentation from a qualified archaeologist detailing the find and time it will take to implement appropriate avoidance or mitigation measures, documentation showing that the find is listed in the California Register of Historical Resources or determined to be eligible for listing by the State Historical Resources Commission, documentation showing that the find is included in a local register of historical resources or identified as significant in a historical resource survey that meets requirements under the Public Resources Code, or documentation showing that the find is of cultural value to a California Native American Tribe.

EXTENSION EXPLANATION

Explain in detail why a compliance extension is needed, how much additional time is needed to comply, efforts taken to mitigate future need for the extension, and provide any supporting documents. If you are requesting an extension for the entire truck TRU fleet, provide an explanation of the circumstances and documentation for why partial infrastructure installation is not viable.

INFORMATION

TRU owner's may apply for a compliance extension for the zero-emission truck TRU requirements specified in section 2477.5(b) due to unforeseen, temporary, or extenuating circumstances outside of the TRU owner's or owner/operator's control that prevents the installation of zero-emission fueling Infrastructure at the facility at which the truck TRU fleet is domiciled. Owners may apply for an additional compliance extension beyond the first two annual extensions due to a delay in obtaining power from a utility.

TRU owners shall submit an application at least 12 months prior to the zero-emission truck TRU compliance deadline if the delay is due to a utility infrastructure upgrade, and at least 3 months prior for all other delay types. Within 45 days of the submission of a complete application, the Executive Officer will approve, modify, or disapprove the application and notify you. TRU owners may apply for an additional one-year extension, 60 days prior to the expiration of the first extension. TRU owners may apply for an additional compliance extension beyond the first two annual extensions due to a delay in obtaining power from a utility, 60 days prior to the expiration of the second extension.
